

KABUL, I LOVE YOU

Film Project

UNAMA is proud to announce a call for entries into the "Kabul, I love you" Film Project.

We are calling young Afghan filmmakers to produce and direct a 10-minute short film in any genre and format (documentary, fiction, experimental, animation, drama, musical, etc) where filmmakers tell a story that illustrates the universality of love, and their love for Kabul city; love for its people, and for their country.

Submission Guidelines:

- Each film should be a maximum of 10 minutes (screen time).
- Each project should be filmed in different locations of Kabul.
- Each filmmaker should submit a synopsis (in English and in the chosen language - Dari / Pashto) a maximum of two A4 pages along with a copy of their previous work to UNAMA Multimedia Unit before 28 May 2011.
- The synopsis should also include the time of filming (day and/or night)
- Each successful project will receive a small production budget.
- The language of the film should be indicated in the film proposal.

All successful short films will be produced into one extended feature length movie and screenings will take place in selected and public venues across Kabul.

To register and get more information about the project and other submission guidelines, please email the Multimedia Unit: multimedia-unama@un.org

First-time filmmakers and women Filmmakers are strongly encouraged to apply.
